

Greetings!

I'm Lisa Chan, and I'm excited to run for secretary in the Graduate Student Organization election. As a current resident's assistant and proctor, and pursuing a master's degree in physics, I am deeply committed to enhancing our graduate student community. I bring a unique balance of problem-solving aptitude and emotional intelligence to the role.

Through my involvement with student life and the Physics & Astronomy Department, I have honed a diverse skillset that will benefit our study body. Recently I led an initiative to improve commuter infrastructure at Stony Brook University, collaborating with the Graduate Student Organization and faculty from the Anthropology Department. This resulted in valuable feedback from fifty students, highlighting the importance of commuter safety.

Furthermore, I am passionate about promoting social wellness and interdisciplinary connections. I am currently organizing a music festival within my department to achieve these goals. I designed a dynamic banner, facilitated email communications, and lead social media efforts to increase engagement among students and faculty.

If selected to be secretary, I will prioritize cultivating a culture of collaboration, communication, diversity, and inclusivity. I'm dedicated to ensuring every graduate student thrives academically and personally.

Thank you for considering me for this position!
